

APPLICATION FORM: CHILD STAR

Are you feeling burned out in science lab, or puzzled by math? And who needs history, when we have Hollywood? You can skip right to the head of the class by becoming a child star! Kids grow up so fast these days—that's why showbiz needs a steady supply. Watch! has tracked down the employment application tailored to turn you into the next future has-been. So sing out, Louise! Just remember, be sure to fill in all circles completely, using only a No. 2 pencil. No, it's not that the application is being read by a machine—Hollywood just desperately needs to find a young person willing to follow directions. — Jim Colucci

Name: _____

Are you wed to that?

- Yes
- No

Age (please check one):

- Infant
- Toddler

Moppet

Precocious preteen

I'm 24 but I can play a semi-convincing 16 (and I can work long hours)

Weight (please check one):

- 0-19 pounds
- 20-49 pounds
- 50-79 pounds
- 80-99 pounds
- Over 100 lbs. (fat friend roles a specialty)

Freckle density (per square inch): _____

Nickname

- "Junior"
- "Princess"
- "Baby Streep"
- "Oscar Bait"
- "Meal Ticket"

My role models include (check all that apply):

- Jodie Foster in Taxi Driver
- Dakota Fanning in Hounddog

- Brooke Shields in Pretty Baby
- Tatum O'Neal in anything

Jena Malone in Bastard Out of Carolina

My post-acting career will be (please check one):

- To knock over a liquor store
- To become a U.S. ambassador

- To knock over a dry cleaner
- [Your name here] is 46 and Pregnant

College, then to knock over a liquor store or a dry cleaner

Which of the following do you use/consume on a daily basis? (check all that apply):

- Chewable vitamins

Acne cream

Energy drinks

Jack Daniels

Heroin

My parents (check one):

- Don't know I'm doing this
- Had to give up their own dreams of stardom

Say I don't have any talent (I'll show them!)

Would like direct deposit of my paychecks, please

Always say I am a drama queen

On the reverse side, please attach written recommendations from two of the following: Grade school teacher, rehab counselor and/or parole officer. (please list names here):

_____
_____
_____

